PLAIN SIGHT BLOWS UP STEAM!

Get Into the Action with the Only Suicidal Ninja-robot Multiplayer Game on the Market

LONDON, ENGLAND – April 5th 2010 – Beatnik Games, an independent game development studio, are proud to announce that its debut game, Plain Sight, is available now on Steam and other digital download platforms priced at $9.99.

A tongue-in-cheek multiplayer arcade game that revels in its uniqueness, Plain Sight casts players as insano suicidal ninja robots who must fly through space, trusty katana in hand, across 13 multiplayer maps, battling up to 20 players on a mission to nab more and more tasty, tasty energy with each enemy you slay. As you get more energy, you change color and get bigger, stronger and brighter, but to convert your hard earned energy into game-winning points, you must do the unthinkable: blow yourself up! The more opponents you take out in the explosion, the higher the multiplier, the higher your score! Upgrade your ninja robot, respawn and do it all over again!
