Long-time resident Harry Stewart is the largest private land owner in Greenvale and is a bit of a recluse. The mysterious wheelchair-bound elderly man lives in a castle-like home on the outskirts of town, and although he doesn’t often leave his house he seems to know the darkest secrets about Greenvale. Continuously wearing a gas mask, Harry is escorted by his personal assistant and caregiver, Michael Tillotson wherever he goes. Tillotson is a much younger, attractive man who acts as a translator for Mr. Stewart (the gas mask prohibits Harry’s direct conversation with others), however, he never looks at people directly or makes eye contact while engaged in conversation. Watch the trailer unfold to see if Harry or Michael have any information that might lead to the killer.
