

 EGOSOFT logo.jpg

Rolling Demo for EGOSOFT'S X³: Terran Conflict Now Available

Benchmarking demo highlights the awesome graphical capabilities of EGOSOFT's latest title

Würselen, Germany – November 7, 2008 – EGOSOFT, a renowned developer of acclaimed computer games for PC, Mac and Linux, announced today that a rolling benchmark demo for their recently released PC title, X³: Terran Conflict, is now available for downloading. X³: Terran Conflict is available now, exclusively through Steam, a leading platform for the delivery and management of PC games and digital content with over 15 million accounts around the world.

The demo is interactive and shows off the impressive graphical detail of the fourth and final game in the popular X series. IGN said of X³: Terran Conflict's graphics, "X3 is a beautiful game...the bigger craft and particularly the space stations are dazzling – fraught with painstaking detail and modeled in a most imaginative fashion," and GamePro raved that "A living breathing world has never looked so good."

This demo is a great tool for people wanting to test or even review graphical cards and other PC components. The demo highlights four very high-res screens from X³: Terran Conflict rendered completely with in-game assets and the original engine (nothing is pre-rendered), and will also feature game music and loading screens explaining X³: Terran Conflict features and gameplay mechanics.

It is now available for download from EGOSOFT's website, www.egosoft.com.

For more information about the X series, X3: Terran Conflict or EGOSOFT, please visit www.egosoft.com. For more information about Steam or to purchase X3: Terran Conflict, please visit www.steamgames.com

XXXXX

ABOUT EGOSOFT:

EGOSOFT, founded in 1990, is one of the oldest game development companies from Germany. Its team of industry veterans and dedicated game enthusiasts entered the international stage with the widely acclaimed X-Beyond the Frontier space simulation game in 1999. EGOSOFT is now exclusively dedicated to setting new standards in the space game genre and constantly improves the level of freedom in the X Universe. For more information on EGOSOFT and its products visit <http://www.egosoft.com>

MEDIA CONTACT:

Jerry Whitehead III
Reverb Communications
(209) 586-3675 ex. 111
jerry@reverbinc.com