Get an Early Look at the Deliciously Addicting Arcade-Puzzle Game at www.bittos.com

SAN DIEGO, Calif. – December 10, 2009 – MACHINE and Unconditional Studios announced today that bittos, the innovative arcade-style puzzle franchise recently announced for WiiWare™, will also be available on Windows-based PCs this Holiday Season.

“Yes, more candy for your brain with bittos coming to PC!” says Fox for Unconditional Studios, “And starting today the internet is squared by the arrival of the new bittos.com website. Watch gameplay videos, study bittos anatomy or even download detailed screenshots, lush wallpapers, tiny messenger icons, and much more! Fans can also check out our Facebook fan page and the official YouTube channel for an array of extra goodies making our new web presence the central resource for the growing bittos community.”

Developed by Unconditional Studios and rated “E” for Everyone by the ESRB, bittos offers players a chance to take control of a variety of shapes while guiding, rotating and placing them in just the right arrangement to construct vibrant, shiny squares. Yes, squares! In fact, making squares and making squares within squares is what creating bittos is all about. The further the player progresses through the levels, the more challenging the game can become and the more unique the experience. Loaded with multiple unlockable modes, in-game Awards to collect, high score boards for both the player and the player’s household, and a mind-shattering four stages of 10 levels in 82 rounds, bittos offers one of the deepest puzzle experiences available today.
