

John “The Lion” Daly Roars in at E3 and “Grips it and Rips it” with the Sony® Move Controller

Twain Harte, Calif—June 17th, 2010— O-Games™ and PGA legend John “The Lion” Daly captivated crowds at E3 while demonstrating John Daly’s ProStroke Golf’s unique control system with Sony’s Move Controller.

The Move controller gives players far more control than any other golf game, allowing players to easily shape and hit realistic golf shots.

“The game is really fun and great to play,” said John Daly. “You can actually swing the club like in real life and open and close the club face to shape your shots for draws and fades. What’s really great about the game is that it will get kids and adults up off the couch and more interested in golf.”

O-Games opened the show to crowds of people desperate to see John Daly and out drive him on the John Daly Challenge Mode.

“The popularity of John Daly is amazing,” said Jim Scott, CEO of O-Games. “Our booth was packed all day with people waiting to meet ‘The Lion’ himself and see him grip the Move controller and bomb it down the fairway.”

O-Games is located in the West Hall, Booth 5544, showing all their Summer and Fall titles on Wii, DS, Xbox 360, and PlayStation 3 platforms.

For new screen shots, assets and pictures of John Daly at E3, please visit www.reverbinc.com/ogames/johndaly

For more information on O-Games, please visit www.og-international.net. For any media inquiries regarding John Daly’s ProStroke Golf, please contact Danitra Alomia with Reverb Communications at danitra@reverbinc.com.