

Black Sigil : Blade of the Exiled Video Game Title for Nintendo DS™ Goes Gold!

REDWOOD CITY, California.—January 28th, 2008 (MarketWire) -- Signature Devices, Inc. (OTCPK: SDVI) is pleased to announce that the Company's wholly owned subsidiary, Graffiti Entertainment, Inc., has gone gold with the Role Playing Game Black Sigil: Blade of the Exiled and has scheduled the release for March 17th, 2009. Going gold is a term used in the video game industry when all testing and functionality of the game has been completed, and the game has been approved for manufacturing.

Black Sigil : Blade of the Exiled is Role Playing Game (RPG) that will excite all gamers. The game includes vivid environments that create a realistic yet imaginative landscape with 40 to 50+ hours of game play and tons of side-quests. Dark secrets and powerful plot twists create an original and intriguing story line. You can strategically customize your 3 person party from up to 8 unique characters, and there are 100+ different physical and magical skills/combos, 100+ different weapons, and 200+ different pieces of armor.

“Black Sigil is a game that all RPG gamers will enjoy. The story is so intriguing that it will keep you glued to your Nintendo DS™,” stated Kenneth Hurley, CEO of Signature Devices, Inc. and Graffiti Entertainment, Inc. “With 40-50+ hours of game play the entertainment value of this game is fantastic. Those that have had a chance to play the game say that it is among the best RPGs they've ever played. Our testing team has played the game over and over for the last 3 months during the testing process and they still enjoy playing the game everyday. That in and of itself is a testament to the game play and story line. In 30 years in the game business I've never witnessed such a thing.”
